Agency of North Carolina MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.
CAMDEN, March 17, 1851.

Editors of the Camden Journal

GENTLEMEN: In order to call attention to this Institution, which is entirely a Southern Enterprise, and entitled to Southern patronage, I deem it not improper to state that some time since, Mrs. Mary J. Davis of this town, effected a policy of Insurance on the life of her negro slave Abram, in the office of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company for five years for $450.00—the premium amounting to $5.86, but two annual payments having been made. Some thirty days since the slave died, and the Company on proof of his death, paid over the amount insured $450.00. This Company is in successful operation, having issued since its commencement, over 11,000 Policies, within a less time than two years.

This Company is based entirely upon the Mutual system, all the insurers are equally entitled to the profits in proportion to the amount of premium respectively paid. The Company received in one day from Hamburg, S. C. 106 applications, which is almost unprecedented in the history of such institutions. All losses sustained by the Company have been promptly paid.
